

ABSTRACT

A reinforced window system for mounting within an opening in a wall, the window system comprising a frame fixable to the opening; said frame comprising
5 an outside support panel and a plurality of fixable fixing members distributed on an inside of the frame; a reinforced window pane fixedly supported within a removable frame; said removable frame comprising a plurality of support members articulated to the support frame and adapted for engagement by the corresponding fixing members; and locking members for positioning and fixing the removable
10 frame within the frame.

09/09/2009 10:00:00